

1-in-1-out and cafe update

Hello fellow lovers of sonically enhanced polyvinyl chloride, we hope you are keeping well and safe as you can be in these challenging times. In light of the PM's decision to introduce much more stringent measures of social distancing, the shop will in turn follow suit.

We will keep working to stay open as long as we can, but the door will be locked from tomorrow onwards, as we introduce a one in, one out policy to further increase the safety of our staff and customers.

RECORD SHOP

One person will be able to browse stock at a time, we while this may seem frustrating, we feel this is the only way we can truly operate safely at the moment, and apologise for any frustration this may cause. We will aim to keep maximum digging time at 15 minutes per person, but emphasise for people to spend a bit less time if they can when there is a queue. Based on trade this week however, it would appear as though this will not cause much impact at all, with visits naturally becoming more sporadic already.

With family and couple visits etc, we have no issue with people waiting in the front of the shop at this stage.

CAFE

In accordance with the new rules, the cafe will no longer operate as a social destination, that means no more in-store food and drinks will be served, only take out's at the door for the foreseeable future.

THANK YOU <3

We want to thank everyone for their cooperation so far during these turbulent few weeks, and above all, for continuing to support us, the strength of our community is beyond belief!

Sending love to everyone, if there is any way we can help with anything, please let us know x
